for children ages 2-5 years old

Research shows that the sooner young children with special needs begin intervention, the greater the potential benefits. The Carrie Brazer Center for Autism “BUILDING FOUNDATIONS” program incorporates multiple ABA techniques, Music, Sensory Integration and Speech Therapy into a comprehensive individualized and intensive early intervention program. We address the full range of life skills, from communication and sociability, self-care and readiness for school.

The “BUILDING FOUNDATIONS” day consists of scheduled activities designed for young children on the autism spectrum. A certified ABA therapist will teach and supervise the children throughout the day.
